MACAO-CANTON RAILWAY
CONVENTION.

ARTICLE XIX.

The Chinese Government will allow gratuitously the extraction of such stone and sand as may be necessary for the construction of the railway, if the stone and sand are found in grounds of the Government and if no objections are found; but if the grounds belong to private persons, the Company will enter into agreement with the owners, and the Chinese local officials will, if necessary, take steps to protect the Company against extortion and prevent injustice to any of the parties.

ARTICLE XX.

The Chinese Government will not give gratuitously land for the construction of the railway nor guarantee the interest on the capital invested in its construction, but grants hereby to the Portuguese-Chinese Company, which is to construct and operate this railway, the following three concessions:—

1.—Grants to this Company the right to construct, in places near to the railway, reservoirs for the storage of water whence it may be carried by pipes for the use of the railway.

2.—Grants to this Company the right to establish in the Heung-shan district one sanatorium and one summer resort.

3.—Grants to this Company the right to establish schools in places previously chosen in accord with the local authorities, where Chinese boys may be instructed in the Portuguese language to act afterwards as interpreters and also in technical knowledge for employment by the railway.

The land that may be necessary for all these works will be acquired by the Company by agreement with the owners if the land belongs to private persons or to Municipal Councils, but if the land belongs to the Government, the Company will petition the Government to measure and register the said land in the name of the Company which will pay the taxes due to the Chinese Government.

ARTICLE XXI.

When out of the annual revenue of the railway, after deducting the amounts necessary to pay all the expenses, the annual interest of 6 per cent on the capital, and an annual instalment for the sinking fund not exceeding 3 per cent of the capital, there remains a surplus, the surplus will be considered as profit, and the Chinese Government will receive 30 per cent of this profit, the remainder reverting to the shareholders.

The annual instalment for the sinking fund will cease as soon as the whole capital invested is redeemed.

To determine the capital invested, the basis will be the account books of the Company and the annual accounts rendered by it to the shareholders.

ARTICLE XXII.

At the end of 50 years, to be reckoned from the date the railway began to work, the said railway and its appurtenances will revert to the Chinese Government without any indemnity to the Company, if the capital invested in the said railway and its appurtenances is fully redeemed by the sinking fund stipulated for by Article XXI, otherwise the Chinese Government will pay to the Company as indemnity previously agreed upon by mutual accord to complete the full reimbursement of the capital, before taking possession of the railway and its appurtenances.

To determine the capital invested, the basis will be the account books of the Company and the annual accounts rendered by it to the shareholders.

ARTICLE XXIII.

If the Company becomes bankrupt, in case of financial difficulties, the two Governments, Portuguese and Chinese, will be under no responsibility, and will pay no indemnity.

ARTICLE XXIV.

Notwithstanding the watchmen employed by the Company to watch the railway, the Chinese Government will protect the railway and its dependencies, as well as whatever other duly authorized buildings the company may possess, against the attacks of outlaws attempting to destroy the railway or to commit depredations and robbery.

ARTICLE XXV.

The Company may, whenever it is found to be necessary, construct telegraph and telephone lines, which must follow the railway. These telegraph and telephone lines will be employed only for the services of the railway, and will not receive nor send messages for the public.

ARTICLE XXVI.

In the event of war, rebellion, or famine, the Chinese government, desiring to send troops, arms, ammunition, or provisions and other articles to afford relief in the case of famine, will have the right of preference in the use of the railway for the transport of men and articles necessary for these purposes, at half the usual rates for passage or freight.

This reduction of rates cannot be claimed in a normal state of affairs.

In the event of war, the Company will not render help to the enemies of China.

ARTICLE XXVII.

Official correspondence and the Imperial Post Office letter bags will be carried gratuitously by the railway according to postal regulations, of which are transcribed eight articles as follows:—

1.—The railway will carry only Chinese Imperial Post Office Mails, and it will not be allowed to carry mails from private post offices or from post offices of other nations.

The mail matter of foreign nations, which by the contract ought to be carried, will be sent to the railway through the Imperial Chinese Post Office on the day the said Post Office sends its mails.

2.—The Post Office does not wish to interfere with the luggage of the passengers of the railway, but if it comes to be known, or if it is verified, that there exists the practice of carrying letters clandestinely, thereby violating the regulations, then preventive measures will be adopted as they should be found necessary.

3.—In the wagons, during the trips from one place to another, there will be a special compartment for carriage of the ordinary mails, according to contract.

When there is a change in the time of departure of trains, the same must be communicated to the post office two days previously, in order to make it known to the public.

4.—For the carriage of ordinary mails in the special compartment, there will be no charge to be paid, but if a special wagon is demanded, payment will have to be made in accordance with rules adopted by other nations, and the rate must be extra cheap.

This point remains yet to be settled.

5.—The Post Office employees are at liberty to travel by the railway on business, but they must be supplied with free tickets, furnished by the railway administration at the request of the Post Office, and if they are not supplied with such tickets, they must pay their passages as any ordinary passenger.

6.—Each railway station will be allowed to rent a certain number of ware-houses and houses.

In these stations, will be placed letter boxes for the reception of letters, and it will be the duty of the Post Office to look after them.

As to the rent of ware-houses and houses, new agreements are necessary.

7.—When the Post Office has anything to pay to the railway, this payment will be made annually.

8.—The alterations which in future may be found necessary will be made by the Board of Foreign Affairs and Board of Commerce.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

The Portuguese Macao Government Post Office's letters and letter bags must be carried gratuitously by the railway to the nearest Chinese Imperial Post Office Station established in Chinese territory.

ARTICLE XXIX.

The engineers, and other persons employed by the railway company, either in any technical or special capacity, may be foreigners, but the labourers of all kinds will be natives.

All the employees of the company will be appointed by the Company.

ARTICLE XXX.

The machines, instruments and materials imported for the use of the railway when imported into Chinese territory will not be free from Customs duties.

ARTICLE XXXI.

The present Convention is written in Portuguese, Chinese and English, and signed in twelve copies in each language.

All these versions have the same sense and meaning, but if at any time questions should happen to arise wherein there are divergences in the interpretation of the Portuguese and Chinese versions, the English text will be made use of to resolve the doubts that may have arisen.

In witness whereof this Convention has been signed in Shanghai, this 11th day of November, 1904.

APPENDIX.

(Copy.)

Despatch of the Waiwupu on the Railway Concession.

Ching, Prince of First Class, President of the Board of Foreign Affairs, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of His Imperial Majesty of Taising Dynasty, to His Excellency, José d'Alveida Castello Branco, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of His Most Faithful Majesty in China.

I have the honour of acknowledging the receipt of your despatch of the following tenor:—

"As we have in our conferences agreed that, for the development of commerce, the Government of His Imperial Majesty of China would grant to a Portuguese-Chinese Company, to be constituted for this purpose in Portuguese territory, the concession for a railway between Macao and the city of Canton, I come now to ask your Highness to confirm in answer to this my despatch, this concession, in order that I may communicate it to the Government of His Most Faithful Majesty, etc., etc."

I have taken due note of the despatch.

I must inform your Excellency that I assent to the request made by your Excellency, that a Portuguese-Chinese Company, to be organized in Portuguese territory, should be allowed to establish a railway between Macao and the city of Canton.

The conditions of this concession will be defined in a contract that will be settled between a Minister appointed by His Most Faithful Majesty and the Minister Sheng, the Director General of the Railways of China, residing at Shanghai.

This is what I have to answer to your Excellency.

14th day of 6th moon of 28th year of Kwangsu, 15th October, 1902.

Sealed with the seal of Waiwupu.—Shanghai Mercury.

INTERPORT CRICKET.

HONGKONG v. STRAITS.

WIN FOR STRAITS.

When Hongkong opened the series of Interport matches with Shanghai on Friday last the meteorological conditions looked none too propitious. Sunlight, rain-charged clouds hung over the ground for several days; but fortunately Jupiter Pluvius was merciful to the volarists of the King of Games, and nothing occurred to interfere with the progress of the carnival. When the third match commenced, Hongkong v. Straits, the atmosphere developed a decided nipiness, which, however, was not sufficient to inconvenience those watching the game. This morning opened in glorious sunshine, and the air seemed to be somewhat milder when the game started.

When Bradbery's wicket fell in the last over of the day on Thursday evening, and the total of the second venture of the Straits team at close of play only amounted to 31 for the loss of four wickets, it seemed a fairly safe prophecy to predict that the match would be over, and a definite result arrived at in regard to the triangular contest between the representatives of the three ports, in the course of the ensuing day. With six wickets to fall they were but four runs ahead of the total of the first innings of the home side, whose position was now a most comfortable one. The only man able to do anything against the bowling of Lumsden and Dixon had been Rees, and the young South Australian had played out time over night in a most confident manner, giving an exhibition of correct, crisp hitting, whilst his associates were completely beaten time after time. He had gone to the wicket on the opening of the innings, with Stronach for partner, shortly after 4.30, and had 25 to his credit at call of time. Twenty of his score had come from his to the boundary. A most sensational collapse had happened in the Straits' first innings, when Whitley joined Hubbach. On the fall of the fifth wicket the score was carried to 125, Whitley then being caught by R. Hancock. It seemed even then that a respectable total would be compiled; but Dixon was to be reckoned with. He was bowling with deadly accuracy, and sent Hubbach, Talbot, and Cochrane back in a single over; all clean-bowled, the hat trick being only averted by a single scored by Parsons who had taken Hubbach's place. At fifteen the score stood at 126 for nine, and a couple of overs after sufficed to dispose of Perkins, the last man; the whole side being dismissed for 128.

Hongkong, on going in, did not do much better, and could only establish a lead of 27 on the first innings, Rees taking five wickets for 42 runs.

THE START THIS MORNING.

Barrett joined Rees at twenty to eleven and faced Dixon, and played out the remaining half of his over, scoring a single. Hancock went on at the pavilion end, and sent down a "maiden." Rees now got Dixon away to the on for a couple. Dixon was bowling well, and the ball was getting up in a somewhat erratic fashion. Rees got an awkward blow on the body from a "kicker," and had to recline on the award for a short space of time. However, he was soon up again. Barrett now opened out, and drove one to the off which Burnsie smartly fielded, and then lifted Hancock to the on for a quartet. Still laying the wood about him, he drove the next to the pavilion on the Club annex side of the ground for another four. Rees then sent Dixon away with a forward drive past the "sighter" for another boundary. Hancock was proving very expensive, both men scoring freely from him. Barrett again drove him hard along the carpet, for a single, Airy returning well. Barrett nicked him to mid-off for a single; and then Rees brought up the

with a beautiful hit to the on boundary off the Hongkong captain. Barrett then leg-glanced Dixon for a smartly-run three, Rees adding a single off the same trundler. Hancock now gave way to Lumsden, and Barrett drove his second ball to the off for a single. The deep field men were now getting a lot of work to do, and the two men seemed to be playing the bowling with ease. Dixon now sent down a "maiden" to Rees by way of change. Barrett seemed content at this stage to feel his way with Lumsden's deliveries. He opened his shoulders to the last ball of the over, though, and drove it hard to Burnsie, who was applauded for a smart return. Rees now brought up the sixty with a lusty drive to the on off Dixon for a smartly-run three, Barrett shortly after putting a single to his account off the same bowler. Dixon now sent down a "maiden" to Barrett, and the rate of run-getting had greatly diminished. Singles were the rule at this period, and risky ones at that, both men having to sprint hard on more than one occasion to get home ahead of the ball. Barrett at last roused himself again, and put a loose one of Dixon's nicely to the on boundary. He then called Rees for another short run, and 70 was signalled. Rees on facing Lumsden lifted the second ball he received to the Press stand amid cheers. He looked good for plenty of runs, and was getting well set. Barrett helped the score along with a hit to leg off Lumsden, which found its way without impediment to the rails. Eighty was now telegraphed, and then Rees drove Dixon to the on for three—the last run a very short one. Barrett now ran in to change his bat. His partner was not destined to stay long with him, however, for Rees put one from Dixon up in the slips, and R. Hancock made no mistake with the catch. He had played a sterling innings, for a total of 50. Five for 84.

Wyatt, the left-handed bat, was the next to go to the wicket, and played the rest of the over from Dixon, scoring a single, and on facing Lumsden put another unit to his reckoning. After Barrett had notched one more, Wyatt drove Lumsden to the Press stand and pavilion twice in succession, bringing up the ninety on the "totalisator." Barrett now emulated his example, and lifted Dixon to long off for a quartet. He sent the next over Lumsden's head at mid-on, but although he jumped a bit, found it out of his reach; and a boundary resulted.

THE CENTURY.

now appeared on the board, and Pearce went on for Lumsden at the pavilion end. Barrett had a narrow escape, playing forward to the new bowler. Arthur whipped the ball off, but he just had his right foot inside the crease. Barrett was now playing vigorous cricket and scored a boundary, then putting Pearce out of the ground for six. The next he sent for four, all run, and three resulted from an overthrow. He then got another to the on, and the over concluding with a single spoilt Pearce's average to the extent of twenty-two runs. The board now showed 120. Bird superseded Pearce with the leather. Off the last ball of his over he gave a difficult chance to Heath, who just touched the ball as it went to the rails. Barrett's innings was now brought to a conclusion, as, putting his leg in front of a straight one from Dixon, he had to quit with 54 to his credit. He had played sound and attractive cricket at a period when the Straits were in a tight corner, and well deserved the applause that greeted him on his return to the pavilion. Six for 129.

Whitley filled the vacancy, and soon put four to his account with a leg glance off Dixon, and 130 was hoisted. The Straits had added a hundred in an hour and five minutes. Wyatt helped the score along with a drive to the on for a quartet. Whitley was not playing Dixon very confidently. Facing Bird, however, he let out, and drove him nicely to the long on boundary, bringing up 140. Wyatt then devoted his attention to Dixon, and drove him to the on and off boundaries twice in succession. The next ball, travelled to the sight screen for byes, and 150 appeared. Things were now looking much brighter for the Straits. Whitley made several ineffectual efforts to get Bird away to leg. Wyatt now got Bird to the on boundary, cheering greeting the stroke, and 60 was figured. Hancock then tried his luck at the Naval Yard end, Dixon, who had been bowling for an hour and a half unchanged, being given a rest. Whitley showed his appreciation of the change by driving the last ball of the over to long for a quartet. Lumsden relieved Bird at the pavilion end. Wyatt with a pretty late cut put the new bowler through the slips for another four, and registered a similar figure from a nice forward drive past the screen. This brought 170 up.

RAPID SCORING.

The Straits had now well passed the total of Hongkong's first innings and were rapidly making up the deficiency, and safeguarding position. Wyatt sent Hancock to the on boundary again past the screen for four, and repeated the stroke off the next, H. Hancock failing to field the ball. Runs were now coming at a prolific rate. Wyatt at this time changed his bat. The change was a happy one, for he lifted Lumsden over to the crimson-hued pavilion, and another four went up to his credit. A late cut by Wyatt off Lumsden for a couple should have been saved by Bird, who failed to gather the ball. Whitley next got Hancock away past square leg to the rails, and 190 was up. He followed this up with a lusty drive past the bowler for another quartet. He evidently was partial to Hancock's bowling. Wyatt then helped himself to a brace off Lumsden with a forward drive. He had opened somewhat shakily, but was now scoring in splendid style all round the wicket. Off Lumsden's next he skied the ball in front of his wicket. Arthur ran forward, and got his hand to the ball, but could not hold it. Wyatt's first chance! That batsman with a snick off Lumsden brought the up at 12.25. Dixon went on in place of Hancock at the Naval Yard end. Straits supporters were now on good terms with themselves. Still smiling with vigour, Wyatt lifted Lumsden to the long field, Hancock returning smartly and only allowing a single. Whitley then got that bowler round to leg for four in good style.

A very fair attendance was now present, with a good sprinkling of the gentler sex. Whitley's innings now came to an end, Dixon taking his leg stump when he had registered 27, by vigorous cricket. Seven for 207.

Parsons was the incoming batsman and Wyatt notched a single with his advent. After playing an over from Dixon in uncertain style, he faced Lumsden, who clean bowled him with his third ball ere he had scored. Eight for 208. Perkins next faced Lumsden, and played out the over. Wyatt was still hitting out, and sent Dixon to the off for a boundary, and 210 was signalled. He then gave Dixon a hard chance off his own bowling, and afterwards scored a single with a cut to the rear of the wicket. Perkins now opened his account with a drive to the on for a single off Lumsden, Airy saving the boundary. Perkins, facing Dixon, got him round to leg in good style for a quartet amid applause, and spooned the next up dangerously near Pearce. Off the last ball of the over he took a somewhat short run, and 220 was up. One from Lumsden ran the blockade and went for a couple of byes, and Perkins then drove him hard to the on boundary, registering a single with a forward drive off the next. Another dangerously short run was then stolen. Perkins then lifted Dixon to leg, high up. H. Hancock failed with what should have been a fairly easy catch. However, a wicket was soon to fall, for facing Dixon, Wyatt was well caught by Heath for a score of 74, nine for 232.

Cochrane went in and was caught by Arthur off Bird, who had gone on again, for a cypher, the innings closing at five minutes to one for 232, leaving Hongkong 206 to get to win. Perkins was not out with 10 to his credit.

HONGKONG BATS.

Punctually at 2 p.m., the first pair of batsmen, R. Hancock and Airy, went to the wicket, while Rees proceeded to bowl at the pavilion end. As a prelude the Straits man carefully measured off twelve paces, marked the ground with his heel, and opened to Hancock, who, off his third ball, got him through the slips for four. Wyatt was bowling from the Naval Yard end. He takes a shorter run than Rees, only eight paces. Airy opened with a single to the rear of the wicket off his fifth ball. He did not seem to take kindly to Rees's bowling, but at length got a single to leg. Hancock again got Rees through the slips for a quartet, and then was up. But disaster was now to befall Hongkong, for with Rees next ball, he clean bowled the Hongkong skipper, when his score stood at 8. One for 10.

Hancock now partnered Airy, and opened with a single with a forward drive off the Australian. He then faced Wyatt, but nothing resulted from the over with the exception of a couple of byes to the screen. Rees sent down a "maiden" to Airy. Wyatt was bowling in admirable style and in his next over took Heath's wicket when he had but a single to his credit. Two for 13.

J. T. Dixon then partnered Airy, and took the last of Wyatt's over. Airy then nicked Rees through the slips for a unit. Dixon opened with a single off the same bowler with a forward drive, and then, facing Wyatt, drove him long on for another single. This was followed by Airy nicking that bowler to the rear of the wicket for four, and 20 was telegraphed. Rees was sending down some good stuff, and Airy was after all at sea with him. Runs were coming very slowly. Dixon was not taking any risks, and was carefully playing himself in. He at length got hold of a loose one from Wyatt, and put it to the on boundary, sending the next to the off, and fetching the 30 up amid the cheers of the supporters of the home team. Airy got Rees to leg for a single, and notched another to square leg off Wyatt. Dixon showed himself willing to hit out, and drove Wyatt slowly to the long field. Perkins waited for the catch, and having got it within his grasp, considerably gave Dixon a life. Taking advantage of the escape, Dixon lifted the next to the off boundary for a quartet. He then had another escape, lifting one to the on boundary, where Bradbery again missed an easy catch. Airy was now to go, for Wyatt found his way to his middle with a beauty. He had contributed 14. Three for 38.

Lumsden followed, and with his advent Dixon put him nicely to the off boundary. Dixon was batting with plenty of confidence. A couple of byes from Wyatt now helped the score along. The band of the Sherwoods had now come on to the ground and opened with selections. Dixon again hit out and smashed Rees to the off, amid applause. This brought 40 up.

HONGKONG'S HALF CENTURY.

Shortly after Dixon's innings came to an end, he belted one from Rees into Whitley's hands in the long field, when he had totalled 25. Four for 54.

H. Hancock was the next to go in. Lumsden took a single off Wyatt, and then Hancock faced the left-hander, and played the over with out scoring. Hancock now put three to his credit off Rees with a hard drive to the off. The ball was now up, and then Hancock drove Rees prettily to the off for a brace. Lumsden was showing more confidence than he had hitherto exhibited, and at length nicely gauged one of Wyatt's, and lifted him to leg for a quartet. Hancock shortly after, facing Rees, returned one lamely to that individual, who promptly seized the opportunity and sent him back to the pavilion with 8 to his credit. Five for 69.

Arthur, the vigorous hitter, now came in, and the field promptly widened out. He got to work immediately on Rees and smashed him into the long field for a brace, Whitley returning smartly. Missing the next, he then sent him to the visitors' pavilion on the Queen's Road side for a quartet. Then he contented himself with a single off the last ball of the over. At this moment His Excellency the Governor entered the ground, and Arthur then lifted Wyatt to long off, where Talbot brought off a neat catch. His score aggregated 7. Six for 77.

Pearce joined Lumsden, and opened with a drive off Rees into the gubernatorial tent. Lumsden then turned Rees to leg for a single. Pearce cut Rees nicely off his balls through the slips for four. Hongkong, however, had got a long way to travel to overtake the Straits total. Whitley now went on for Wyatt at the Naval Yard end, from whence at this moment another dense volume of black smoke was belching, and polluting the atmosphere. Lumsden now touched a rising one on the off from Whitley and Rees brought off a neat catch in the slips. His score stood at 17. Seven for 86—gloomy for Hongkong.

Daniel now stepped into the breach. He played the first over from Whitley very cautiously. Pearce was shaping, but refused to be tempted to hit out. At length, off Rees' last ball of the over, he pulled him round to leg for a single, and Wyatt was immediately after applauded for a smart stop on the boundary from Pearce—two only resulting. Daniel then nicked Rees through the slips for a single, Pearce shortly after putting that bowler to the boundary in the rear of the wicket for four. Daniel was not to stay long though, for Rees shifted his off stump when he had scored 4. Eight for 97.

THE CENTURY.

Burnie was next associated with Pearce. Pearce with three singles then brought up on the indicator. A ball from Rees then almost took his wicket. The next he got well hold of and drove it forward past the bowler for a quartet to the members' gate. Burnie then gave Whitley a difficult chance off his own bowling. He was not to stay much longer, however, for Rees scattered his timber, and he retired with a brace to his credit. Nine for 105.

Bird was Hongkong's last hope, and he became associated with Pearce. The home team were still 110 to the bad. Pearce now sent Whitley to the off rails amid somewhat ironical cheers, and followed it up by a single past point. 110 was now on the board. Rees, who had bowled unchanged, throughout the afternoon now caught and bowled Pearce, who had made 21. Bird being not out without having scored, Singapore thus won the rubber with 95 runs to the good. Rees had proved a most effective bowler, securing six wickets at a cost of 62 runs; Wyatt having three for 35 to his credit.

HARMSTON'S CIRCUS.

A match will commence to-morrow between teams chosen from the three teams who have occupied the ground during the past week, and will be carried on over Monday next. A start will be made at 10.30.

HARMSTON'S CIRCUS.

The management of this popular entertainment now drawing large crowds to the marquee at Causeway Bay are sparing no pains to please their patrons. Throughout the week most enjoyable programmes have been presented each evening and new features introduced at each performance. There will be a matinee to-morrow followed by another entertainment at night while on Monday special turns will be put on, and the night following there will be the presentation of bats to successful members of the Hongkong and Singapore cricket teams. On Sunday there will be a high jumping competition for local ponies, 14 lbs. 2 in., and under. A handsome trophy will be given the winner, and in order to secure a good contest the tent will be open for practice from Monday evening between the hours of 6 and 7. This will enable the ponies to get accustomed to the artificial light, etc. These competitions were very popular in Tientsin and Shanghai, no less than five being held at the latter port in one of which there were 22 entries. Besides this attractive event the menagerie will receive several additions in the course of the next few days, and those desirous of seeing some of the fine animals, brought here by the company, it has been decided to open the tents to the public between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. commencing on Sunday, at a nominal admission of 20 cents.

A TIGER IN THE NEW TERRITORY.

A FARMER MAULED.

Considerable excitement and interest was raised on Tuesday last when a farmer was brought into Tai Po, suffering from the effects of a severe mauling by a tiger at Au Tau, in the Un Loong district, New Territory. It seems that the farmer was at work in his field when "Stripes" suddenly appeared on the scene and sprang on him, severely mauling him about the shoulders, back and arms, before the farmer's comrades could beat the animal off. The mauling man was attended to at Tai Po, and subsequently brought over to the Government Civil Hospital.

A party of enthusiastic local sportsmen leaves to-morrow night for the scene of "stripes" depredations, and the men behind the guns hope, between them, to secure his skin.

ARQUEBUSADE WATER

HERMITAGE OF THE MARIST BROTHERS; OR IMPROVED VULNERARY LIQUOR.

Invigorating, Stimulating, Hygienic, Aromatic, of an acknowledged and quite exceptional efficacy.

The Arquebusade Water, known and appreciated throughout the greater part of France and abroad, justifies more and more the great fame it has acquired.

USE OF THE ARQUEBUSADE WATER.

INTERNALLY.—From two to three spoonfuls in a glass of cold water, pure or sweetened, after falls, bruises, cuts, fractures, luxation, tearing of tissues, faintings, burnings, swoons, plague and cholera. For the last two cases it must be taken pure, six spoonfuls at a time. Experience justifies its efficacy as a preventive remedy against mortification and quinsy. The dose may be repeated several times a day.

The same dose, in a glass of hot and sugared water, instantly removes the fatigue of either a journey or a walk, is a great appetizer and often prevents colds.

Taken in an infusion of melissa, hyssop, ground-ivy, or violets, it is an efficacious remedy against gripes, difficult digestion, pains in the stomach, &c.

Taken pure after meals it is salutary to old people by warming their stomach, rendered cold by age, and accelerates digestion; but it is less suited to nervous persons and children to whom it must never be given without being well diluted with water.

EXTERNALLY.—It is a capital remedy against sprains, cuts, bruises, excoriation, burnings, fractures, any fresh wound, danger of mortification, heating of the feet, irritation of the skin after a walk.

Whenever it is possible rub hard with this liquid. A compress is saturated with it and applied on the affected part which is kept moistened by sprinkling it with this Water.

In case of wounds, after the dressing made with the Arquebusade Water, sprinkle the compress with a mixture of the Liquor and fresh water in equal parts.

It is also very advantageously used in frictions and in compresses used in headache, rheumatic and neuralgic complaints. For these last it is good to warm somewhat the liquid before being applied.

The ARQUEBUSADE WATER is of public interest, approved and recommended by the most eminent physicians of France, commends itself to all those who are anxious about their health in these countries where plague and cholera make often dreadful havoc.
